

THE PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy statement governs the use of the application software "IP address - My connection" for mobile devices created by Francesco Maggio. No information is available to third parties except Google.

Information Provided

The application obtains the information provided during the download and accepts the necessary permissions to run the application. Some permissions are granted to the runtime application.

This information is used simply for use based on the functionality of this application.

All data is managed offline.

- Authorization to access the location of the device, essential to know the level of the GSM signal and in some cases the name of the WIFI network. (ACCESS_FINE_LOCATION):

This information is used for basic usage simply based on the functionality of this application.

You can easily stop the entire collection of information from the application by uninstalling it.

You can use standard uninstall processes as they are available as part of the mobile device or via the mobile application market or network.

It is possible to restrict the reading of some content through permissions, however this can cause the application to crash.

All data stored outside your device is found on the Google server as data analyzed on the Google Analytics platform.

Note that some or all of the data provided by the user may be required for the application to function properly.

Please note that while we try to provide reasonable information security, processing and maintenance, no security system can prevent potential security breaches.

We use AdMob (Google Mobile Ads SDK) to serve ads. Google may use the advertising ID of the device on which the ad is served to generate interest, demographics and other data that could be used to serve you more targeted ads.

Changes

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time for any reason. We will notify you of any changes to our privacy policy by inserting the new privacy policy with an in-app notice in the app. You are advised to review the privacy policy periodically for any changes, such as continued use which is considered to approve all changes.

Your consent

By using the application, you consent to the processing of your information as set

Please proceed to this Privacy Policy and modify by us
